MISSION STATEMENT AND GUIDING PRINCIPLES

It is the mission of the Chaplains of the Albuquerque Police Department to:

The following six Guiding Principles will help us measure the appropriateness of our decisions:

- Provide a great work environment by working effectively with each other.
- Apply the highest standards of excellence to providing support to those requesting assistance.
- Maintain a presence that fosters the highest ethical conduct among employees.
- Foster public confidence and support by attending civic events and being available during periods of heightened public interest.
- Contribute positively to our Department and our community.
- Recognize that the spirit of service is essential to fulfilling our mission.

HISTORY

The Albuquerque Police Chaplaincy began in 1969 and provides a ministry of compassion to police officers and the general public. The Chaplain Unit grew from a proposal by a local minister, the Reverend Virgil Bonto, who had some experience with police chaplaincies. Reverend Bonto approached Chief of Police Paul A. Shaver and suggested a chaplain unit for the police department. On March 10, 1969, with Chief Shaver's full support and encouragement, the Reverend John A. "Jack" Price became the first full-time Chaplain Commander for the Albuquerque Police Department with 35 ministers and one motor vehicle donated by a local automobile agency. One of the first goals was to stand ready to bear witness to the forgiving love and concern of God Almighty for all people, and especially for those in sorrow and despair. A goal that we continue to pursue today. The Chaplain Unit continues to have strong support from the current Chief of Police and in 1998 the Albuquerque Law Enforcement Building was named after Commander Price. On July 11, 2006, Chief Raymond D. Schultz showed equally strong support when he appointed Officer Briane L. Dennison as the first sworn Chaplain Commander. Currently, Department Chaplains continue to serve both the Department and the Albuquerque community as "ambassadors" dedicated to meeting the needs of persons that lives may be held in balance and give direction to meet eminent needs.
